SCHOOL OF LAW

INTRODUCTION TO LAW OF TORT

For all interested participants who may wish to learn about their general rights and responsibilities to others and the importance of executing their functions with due care and competence

ABOUT THE COURSE

This introductory course explores the law in relation to the tort of negligence. It is designed to equip participants with basic knowledge and understanding of relevant case law. The negligence action will be viewed in its social and economic context.

WHY CHOOSE THIS COURSE?

This area of personal injury law practice is one of the most lucrative and controversial. This course is essential because it safeguards society's members against avoidable losses, such as personal injury, property damage, and negligence resulting from breach of duty of care.

WHAT WILL I LEARN?

- The Law of Tort and its distinction and similarities with other areas.
- The difference between Criminal and Civil Proceedings.
- The Burden of Proof in Civil and Criminal Proceedings.
- The elements of the Law of Negligence - Duty of Care, Breach and Resultant Loss
- Principles governing - Duty of Care, Breach, Loss/ Damage/Injury - causation and remoteness principles
- The Concept of Medical Negligence in the Law of Tort
- Possible defences - violent and contributory negligence

COST
$80,500

DURATION
28 Hours

The course is one of three law courses which on successful completion gives entry into the University of London LLB Programme which can be studied at Nations. All three courses have to be done together as part of the Pre Law programme and not studied seperately

CERTIFICATION
Successful learners will be awarded an ABMA certificate of completion. ABMA is an Awarding Organization based in the UK offering OFQUAL Regulated and Professional qualifications in the UK and internationally.
